Will Employ Architect For School Construction Here; Invite Nearby Districts To Join Gettysburg Area Group

The Gettysburg Joint School District board of 27 members Monday evening extended an official invitation to other nearby districts to join the Gettysburg jointure; authorized the joint district planning board to employ an architect for new school construction here and re-elected joint board officers for another year.

Districts to which the invitation to join the Gettysburg joint district is being extended were not named and no deadline was set for action on the invitation. Several directors, however, expressed the opinion that the joint planning board and the supervising principal should consider setting a date by which other boards must act to come into the Gettysburg district.

Authority for the joint district planning board to employ an architect came after Dr. L. C. Keefeauver, Gettysburg superintendent and supervising principal of the joint district, told the board that regardless of whether more districts come into the Gettysburg jointure, more building space must be provided very soon.

Re-elect Officers

The joint board—which includes the directors of Gettysburg borough, and Cumberland, Freedom, Highland and Straban townships—re-elected Dr. R. D. Wickerham of Gettysburg as president of the joint board.

Ralph W. Guise, Straban township board president, was re-elected vice president of the joint board. Paul M. Rohrbaugh, Gettysburg, continues as joint board secretary. The joint board organization meeting followed separate meetings held by the five member boards.

Dr. Keefeauver told the directors that the Gettysburg joint district now has a pupil population of 1,578 but that the area about Gettysburg has a potential pupil population of 2,400. Larger school districts can offer greater pupil opportunities and at the same time accomplish some economies, the superintendent pointed out.

He quoted a national authority as predicting a 25 to 30 per cent increase in pupil enrollment in the next 10 years.

Need Junior High

In answer to a question from a director, Dr. Keefeauver said:

"We must build a junior high school regardless of whether more districts come into our jointure. If we get by with our present facilities for another school year after the current one, that will be the limit. If we don't act by that time to get more buildings, the increase in pupils in the districts already in the jointure will have us looking for some one-room school buildings, that already have been sold, in the townships."

The unanimous action to authorize the planning board, made up of one member from each member board, to employ an architect followed.

The member boards reported to the joint district secretary results of elections of members to the joint (Please Turn to Page 8)

SCHOOL BOARDS OF LOCAL JOINT DISTRICT ELECT

Paul M. Rohrbaugh, Steinhilber avenue, was re-elected president of the Gettysburg board of school directors at the annual re-organization meeting held before the Gettysburg Joint School district board organized at the high school building here Monday evening.

Directors of Cumberland, Freedom, Highland and Straban townships at separate board meeting at 7 p. m. conducted their own re-organizations.

The Gettysburg board also re-elected George T. Raffensperger, South Stratan street, as vice president. The organization session was held after Daniel J. Wolff, Seminary avenue, took his oath of office as the new member of the Gettysburg board.

Directors Assigned

Wolff succeeds Mahlon P. Hartzell who retired as a member of the board but continues as secretary of the Gettysburg school district.

Mr. Raffensperger presided during the re-organization and administered the oath of office to Mr. Wolff.

Mrs. Sydney Poppay was re-appointed (Please Turn to Page 8)

LIONS GUESTS OF MUSSELMAN CO.

Members of the Gettysburg Lions club were guests of the C. H. Musselman company, Biglerville, at their weekly dinner meeting Monday night.

After a short business meeting, the Lions were conducted on a tour of the plant and were shown the various operations in apple processing. The Musselman company employees who acted as guides were John Frederick, Robert Burkhardt, George Martin and A. S. Stauffer.

During the meeting, it was decided not to meet on Mondays, December 26 and January 2. President Donald M. Swope explained to the club the manner in which applications for membership are processed since the club membership has been "frozen" at 120.

Clair Shillito greeted the Lions on behalf of John A. Hauser, president of Musselman firm, and President Swope thanked the hosts for the dinner and tour.

Guests present included Howard Schwartz and George Pyle. Members of the Upper Adams Lions club who attended were Harry Geiselman, Donald Horst, Russel Hackman and Mr. Shillito.

Gets More Than 300 Gifts On Birthday

Mrs. Fanny Hartzell, Fairfield, who celebrated her 80th birthday Monday, today extended her thanks to the entire community. She received 160 birthday cards, 150 handkerchiefs and a number of other gifts on the occasion. The gifts and cards were held at the Fairfield post office as a surprise for Mrs. Hartzell. When her grandson picked up the mail, he had a huge basket full of greetings and gifts to deliver to his grandmother.

LEGIONNAIRES ASKED TO HELP VETS WITH BONUS

Roy A. Alexander, veterans affairs director, Monday evening asked members of the Albert J. Lentz American Legion post to volunteer for the work of aiding veterans fill out their applications for the state bonus.

Speaking at a regular meeting of the Lentz post, held in the Legion home on Baltimore street, Alexander said that the Legion plans to provide assistance to all veterans who wish the aid in filling out the applications.

The work probably will start sometime in January, he said. State officials expect the forms will be available sometime between January 1 and 15. When the applications are available they will be brought to the local Legion home, and veterans will be able to secure the forms there.

POULTRYMEN HEAR ABOUT NEW DISEASE

The Adams County Poultry Federation at its meeting Monday evening at the court house called upon all poultry raisers in the county to report immediately "even the slightest suspicion" that there might be infectious bronchitis in their flock.

Immediate reports on infectious bronchitis will help the county to take preventive measures against the disease which depletes egg production and quality, Roy Heckenluber, president of the county federation, said.

The disease symptoms appear much like Newcastle disease, Heckenluber and others noted. The difference comes after the laying hen has gotten over the disease. Recovering from Newcastle, a hen begins to produce eggs at normal rate again. Following infectious bronchitis, the hen never regains her egg producing capacity to any great extent.

"Tighter" Times Ahead

Heckenluber pointed out that chickens with the disease should be taken to the Bureau of Animal Industry laboratory at Summerdale, about two miles north of Wormleysburg. When the laboratory certifies that infectious bronchitis is present in Adams county flocks, an antitoxin will be released for use in the county. The antitoxin is given to chickens on the range before they begin to produce eggs.

William F. Johnstone, agricultural economist from State College, warned the poultrymen that they are in for a tighter financial squeeze during the coming year.

There will be a slight decrease in the demand for eggs and other poultry products during 1950 because of the expected slight decline of business prosperity, he noted. (Please Turn to Page 3)

The program will open with two overtures by the college orchestra under the direction of Harry F. Bohlen, "Christmas Andante" by Brahms, and "Sonata Pathetique" by Beethoven.

Following the call to worship, the audience will join in the hymn, "O Come All Ye Faithful." The Rev. Howard McCarney, college chaplain, will read the Christmas gospel.

Only One Arrest Is Made By Borough Police In November; Digging Permits Net $4,973.98

Either a new low in law enforcement has been reached in Gettysburg, or the town is getting so good that almost no crime is committed.

"I have had only one arrest report submitted to me for the month of November, which was for a motor violation," the monthly report of Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster, submitted to borough council Monday night, said.

There were three automobile accidents during the month, the report stated, involving six automobiles and two trucks, with property damage estimated at $650. No automobiles were stolen, but five bicycles reported stolen, only two were recovered, Harpster reported. Twenty-seven minor complaints were investigated.

Report Of Burgess

Burgess C. A. Heiges' report for November showed total receipts of $5,720.26, of which $4,973.98 was for digging permits. Council voted to transfer $2,900 of this amount to the highway fund and $2,000 to the safety fund.

Other receipts reported by the burgess included $55 from building permits; $496.68 theater assessment; $46 in roller fees; $50.50 for mowing weeds; 60 cents for shoveling snow; $88 for meter violations and $11 for illegal parking between 2 and 6 a. m.

The report of John H. Basehore, treasurer, showed a balance at the end of November of $30,888.18. Receipts were $10,932.56 and expenditures $6,988.29.

Parking meters receipts were $1,635.80 during the month. Chambersburg street meters took in $371.97; Center square, $367.58; Baltimore street, $356.24; York street, $289.97; Carlisle street, $161.69 and West Middle street, $88.25.

Referring to the large number of digging permits and the amount of excavating work being done on the streets, Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner said a representative of the state highway department here recently had "frowned" on the amount of digging.

Expensive Repair Work

"If it continues the state may take over the digging permits and the borough will have to pay for them," Winebrenner said. "The ordinance should be revised. The concrete alone to repair holes in Steinwehr avenue cost more than was paid into the borough in digging permit fees," he said.

The question was referred to the highway committee and the borough engineer.

A petition, signed by 31 residents of the Highland avenue section, asking that property owners on South Washington street and the south side of Highland be notified to lay sidewalks, was tabled on the grounds that no work could be done during the winter and a new council will take over in January.

The petitioners asked that new sidewalks be built by Viola Clay, Edna C. Walker, V. W. S. Dutterra, (Please Turn to Page 5)

Fairfield Cemetery Association To Meet

The annual meeting of the Fairfield Union cemetery association will be held Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the parish house of Zion Lutheran church, Fairfield.

All citizens of the community are urged to attend.

COUNCIL NAMES MARCH TO FILL UNEXPIRED TERM

Borough council elected one of its own members to fill the vacancy caused by the death on November 4 of Councilman Wilbur J. Stallsmith, and appointed a new borough auditor at its December meeting Monday night in the engine house.

George D. March, whose term as first ward councilman expires this year, and who was the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for county treasurer in November, will return to the council for two more years in Stallsmith's place.

As is customary, the remaining two councilmen from the first ward were asked for recommendations, and Councilman Samuel Weiser nominated Charles Ogden, March, in effect, recommended himself.

HELD FOR COURT

Frederick M. McConnell, Biglerville R. 1, arrested in Center square Saturday night on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, signed a plea of guilty before Justice of the Peace John H. ## Council Rejects Resignation Of 2 Civil Service Members; Schnurman Refuses To Serve

N. B. Schnurman, secretary of the borough Civil Service Commission, who, with Dr. Walter S. Mountain, president, resigned effective last Saturday, said this morning that he will not continue to serve. "I've done quit and that's all there is to it," he said. Doctor Mountain said he was reserving any comment for the time being.

The borough still has a two-man Civil Service commission, the resignations of Dr. Walter S. Mountain, president, and N. B. Schnurman, secretary, which were to become effective last Saturday, notwithstanding. The resignations were read at Monday night's regular meeting of the borough council, in the council chambers at the engine house, by Mrs. Anna Dracha, borough secretary, but the council refused to accept them.

"Glad To Serve," Says Oyler

There was no action taken on filling the vacancy caused by the death on November 4 of the third member of the commission, Councilman Wilbur J. Stallsmith.

"I'd like somebody to make a motion that they be refused," Councilman H. M. Oyler, president of the borough council, said. "They have been misinformed, and I have been told that they will be glad to serve out their terms."

Councilman Fred Hummelbaugh moved that the resignations be refused. It was seconded by Councilman Harry Koch, and the motion was adopted unanimously.

Mountain and Schnurman issued statements last week when they announced their resignations, to become effective Saturday. Dr. Mountain said "there is no point in our continuing to serve on the commission when our recommendations are ignored by the town council. Our duties were to conduct examinations for those applying for appointment to the borough police force. . . . Several members of the present force, working part time, have never taken an examination."

Mr. Schnurman said "our work was like love's labor lost. We were ignored." The resignations, temporarily at least, left the borough without a Civil Service commission.

"Santa And The Magician"

SANTA AND THE MAGICIAN

Chapter 1

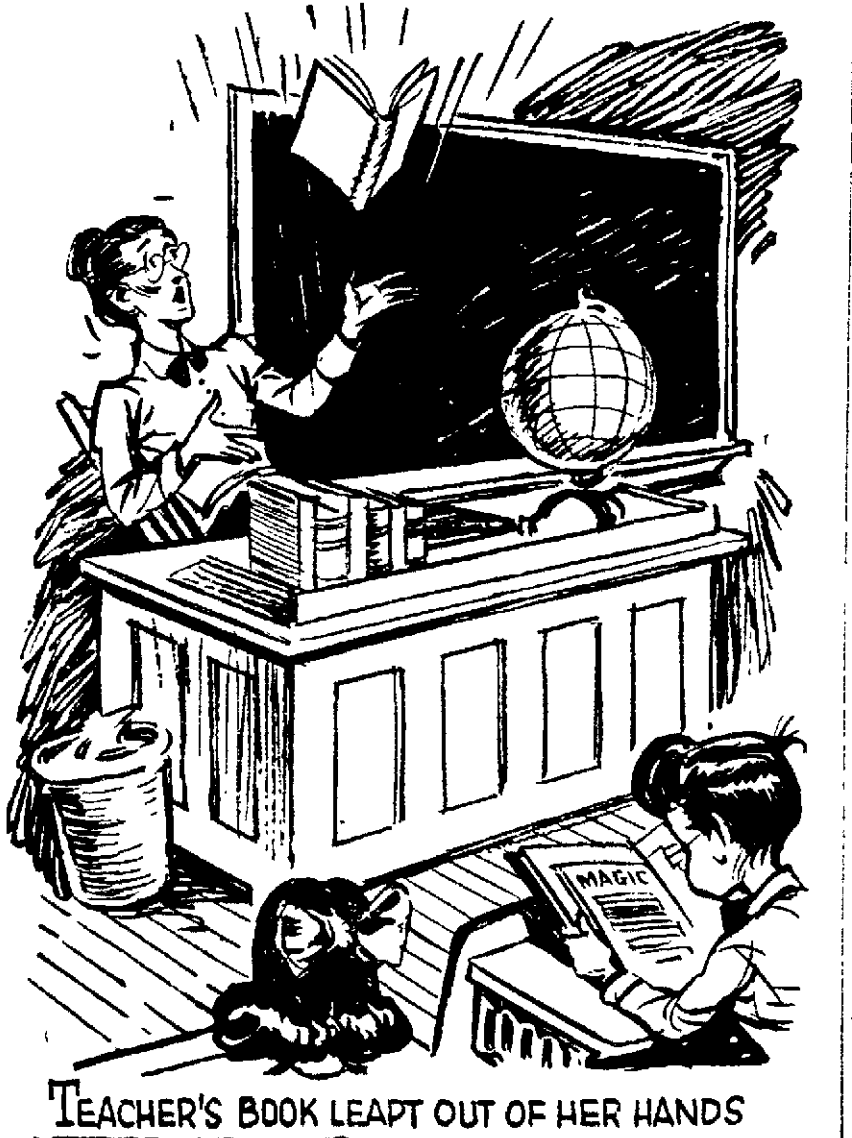

Once upon a time there was a man named Mr. Dilly. He was a magician. All his life he had loved magic and had never wanted to be anything except a magician.

He started practicing magic at a very early age. When he was five years old, in fact, he used to hide his carrots and string beans under the potato skin on his dinner plate and say, "Look, mother, the vegetables disappeared!"

When he was in school he had scarcely any time to spend on geography or history because he was always studying magic. He knew a hundred tricks. He made the teacher's book leap out of her hands; he caused her chair to screech when she sat down; he gave her a glass of water that turned to ink.

One day he said, "Give me your old hat and I will change it into a new hat." The teacher gave him her hat and he shut it up in a hat box and shook it and mumbled over it. But he hadn't studied that trick very carefully because when he opened the box there was no new hat nor old hat either. He never did find either hat. The teacher was mad and would not let him come to school any more.

He didn't care. He just went on studying magic. When he grew up he called himself Mr. Dilly, the Magician and travelled all over the country putting on magic shows. Unfortunately, he was never a (Please Turn to Page 6)

COUNCIL NAMES MARCH TO FILL UNEXPIRED TERM

Borough council elected one of its own members to fill the vacancy caused by the death on November 4 of Councilman Wilbur J. Stallsmith, and appointed a new borough auditor at its December meeting Monday night in the engine house.

George D. March, whose term as first ward councilman expires this year, and who was the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for county treasurer in November, will return to the council for two more years in Stallsmith's place.

As is customary, the remaining two councilmen from the first ward were asked for recommendations, and Councilman Samuel Weiser nominated Charles Ogden March, in effect, recommended himself.

Council Rejects Resignation Of 2 Civil Service Members; Schnurman Refuses To Serve

N. B. Schnurman, secretary of the borough Civil Service Commission, who, with Dr. Walter S. Mountain, president, resigned effective last Saturday, said this morning that he will not continue to serve. "I've done quit and that's all there is to it," he said. Doctor Mountain said he was reserving any comment for the time being.

The borough still has a two-man Civil Service commission, the resignations of Dr. Walter S. Mountain, president, and N. B. Schnurman, secretary, which were to become effective last Saturday, notwithstanding.

The resignations were read at Monday night's regular meeting of the borough council, in the council chambers at the engine house, by Mrs. Anna Dracha, borough secretary, but the council refused to accept them.

"Glad To Serve," Says Oyer
There was no action taken on filling the vacancy caused by the death on November 4 of the third member of the commission, Councilman Wilbur J. Stallsmith.

"I'd like somebody to make a motion that they be refused," Councilman H. M. Oyer, president of the borough council, said. "They have been misinformed, and I have been told that they will be glad to serve out their terms."

Councilman Fred Hummelbaugh moved that the resignations be refused. It was seconded by Councilman Harry Koch, and the motion was adopted unanimously.

Mountain and Schnurman issued statements last week when they announced their resignations, to become effective Saturday. Dr. Mountain said "there is no point in our continuing to serve on the commission when our recommendations are ignored by the town council. Our duties were to conduct examinations for those applying for appointment to the borough police force. . . . Several members of the present force, working part time, have never taken an examination."

Mr. Schnurman said "our work was like love's labor lost. We were ignored." The resignations, temporarily at least, left the borough without a Civil Service commission.

"Santa And The Magician"

SANTA AND THE MAGICIAN
Chapter 1

Once upon a time there was a man named Mr. Dilly. He was a magician. All his life he had loved magic and had never wanted to be anything except a magician.

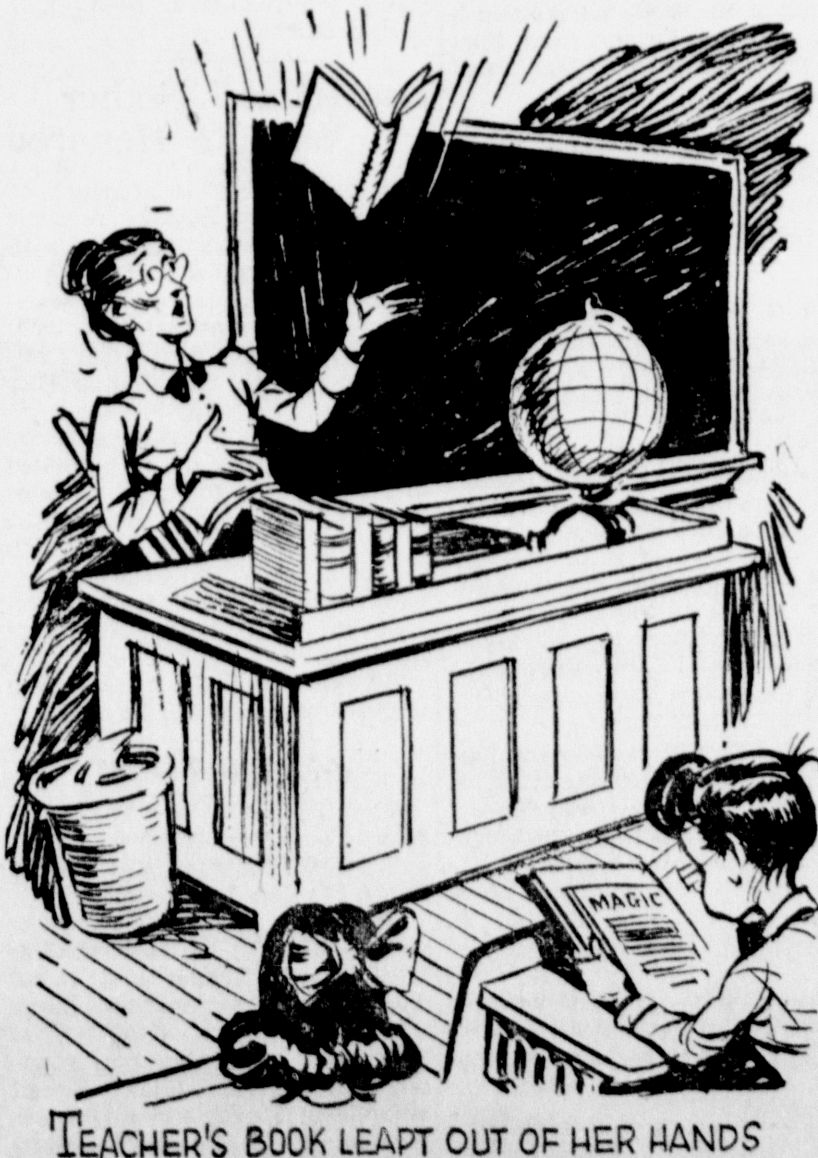

He started practicing magic at a very early age. When he was five years old, in fact, he used to hide his carrots and string beans under the potato skin on his dinner plate and say, "Look, mother, the vegetables disappeared!"

When he was in school he had scarcely any time to spend on geography or history because he was always studying magic. He knew a hundred tricks. He made the teacher's book leap out of her hands; he caused her chair to screech when she sat down; he gave her a glass of water that turned to ink.

One day he said, "Give me your old hat and I will change it into a new hat." The teacher gave him her hat and he shut it up in a hat box and shook it and mumbled over it. But he hadn't studied that trick very carefully because when he opened the box there was no new hat nor old hat either. He never did find either hat. The teacher was mad and would not let him come to school any more.

He didn't care. He just went on studying magic. When he grew up he called himself Mr. Dilly, the Magician and travelled all over the country putting on magic shows. Unfortunately, he was never a

MOUNTS MEET BULLETS HERE ON WEDNESDAY

A victim of two narrow defeats on a two-day jaunt into Virginia last week, the Mt. St. Mary's college basketball team will be seeking win No. 1 when it meets the Gettysburg college courtmen on the local floor Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Last week Coach John McMahon's Mountaineers lost to Hampden-Sidney 41-36 and on the following night bowed to Roanoke 44-42.

Minus the services of such stars as Pete Clark, Mike Russo, Bob Zwerbel, Bob Kripatis and Len Tierno, Coach McMahon has been forced to mould his team around last year's reserve unit and reports have it that he has done a fine job.

It is expected that the Mounts will start the same group who opened last week's contests.

Mount Starters
Included will be George Jarvis and Jack Denman, forwards; Captain Gene Janis, center; Jim Montgomery and Ted Kachowski, guards. Janis towers six feet, five inches, tallest player on the Mount squad.

Other Mount players who will probably see action include Al Rose, George Charniga, Bob Gunther, Frank Tumulty, Frank Bono, Eddie Flanagan, Jack Auwerda and Bill Rothe.

The Bullets will be out to rebound after their reverse at the hands of Cornell.

Height was a contributing factor to Cornell's triumph but against the Blue and White aggregation from Emmitsburg the Bullets will have a slight advantage.

Last year the teams played one of the most thrilling games of the season on the local court with the Bullets finally winning 62-60 and it is likely another close contest will be staged.

The Bullet starting lineup will be picked from Harris, O'Brien, Pure, Belber, Sachs, Mahon, Coder, Ketterman, Watson, Resnauich, Hare and Clark.

WISCONSIN IS "SURPRISE" 11

New York, Dec. 6 (P)—Wisconsin, which rallied from a disastrous '48 season to make a valiant fight for the Big Ten title this year has been voted the "surprise" college football team of 1949 in a nationwide Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters.

Under a new coach, Ivy Williamson, the Badgers won three of their first five conference games, tied another, and were not eliminated from Rose Bowl contention until their final contest, in which they bowed to Minnesota by 14-6.

Louisiana State, which won a Sugar Bowl assignment by walloping such home-conference luminaries as Rice, Tulane and North Carolina, proved a strong second choice among the balloters.

Virginia and Pittsburgh were tied for third, each having been singled out by five voters as the surprise package of the campaign.

Other teams which received at least one vote for having done the unexpected were Baylor, Maryland, UCLA, Princeton, Southern Cal, Villanova, Oregon State, Rice, Kentucky, Santa Clara, Purdue, Army, Notre Dame, College of the Pacific, Stanford, Michigan State and Gannon College of Erie, Pa.

HOT RACE FOR PASSING TITLE

Philadelphia, Dec. 6 (P)—A half dozen players are in the midst of a hot race for the National football league's passing championship.

NFL statistics released today show the closest race in history for the league passing crown with Charley Conerly of the New York Giants holding grimly to a narrow lead.

But Tommy Thompson of the champion Philadelphia Eagles and winner of the diadem last year is closing with a rush and moved into second place one and one-half points behind Conerly under the league's inverse grading system.

Conerly and Thompson match their marksmanship again next Sunday in the final game of the season and the man who does the best pitching probably will win the title.

In nearly all the other individual departments, the final game of the season will do little to change the picture.

Steve Van Buren of the Eagles, greatest ground gainer in the league's history, holds a 68-yard margin over Green Bay's surprising Tony Canadeo in rushing with a new league mark for one season already to his credit.

Binghamton Drafts Ex-Bullet Player

First Baseman Russell (Honey) Wileman of Harrisburg, who played with Richmond of the Piedmont league, was drafted by the Binghamton club of the Eastern league during Monday's draft meeting at the minor league meeting at Baltimore.

College Athletic Officials Meeting

New York, Dec. 6 (P)—The annual convention of the Eastern College Athletic association got under way today with more than 150 delegates from 76 colleges in attendance.

Although the colleges are considerably worried about the inroads television has been making on attendance at college football games during the past two years, this subject will not come up for discussion and action until Friday when a report on the television committee will be presented.

On Thursday the first controversial subject will come up when the Eastern association of rowing colleges meets to discuss shifting the Poughkeepsie regatta to Marietta, O., which put forth an offer to stage the race last month.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Dec. 6 (P)—If the National Basketball association hasn't done anything else for the game, it has, as prey Maurice Podoloff points out, provided a medium for experimenting with proposed rules changes. For instance, they're widening the foul lane from six to 12 feet for a one-month experimental period—which is just picking up a change which the International Federation adopted for a four-year stretch. If it doesn't work, Podoloff can pick up the phone and order a change within a few minutes.

"With 17 teams playing as many as 30 games a week, we can tell in a very short time whether there's anything wrong," Podoloff explains.

Ned Irish, picking up the explanation of the various NBA changes that will go into effect Dec. 15, says the whole idea is to keep teams from "trading fouls" in the closing minutes, by eliminating some of the incentive to foul and by telling referees not to tout their whistles unless there's a real foul. Sounds good from here.

QUOTE, UNQUOTE

Harry Rabenhorst, Louisiana State basketball coach: "Kentucky is the No. 1 basketball team in the Southeastern conference. Don't anybody feel sorry for Adolph Rupp. We had a conference meeting the other day and Adolph was making concessions to all of us."

CLEANING THE CUFF

The Norfolk, Va., sports club, which last year picked Charley Justice as the most valuable player in the Southern conference, passed him up this year to honor Buddy Shoaf of Virginia's non-conference team. And in Roanoke, Va., Shoaf's home town, the quarterbacks honored Johnny Papit. The boss experts who gathered for the thoroughbred racing associations meeting last week picked Tom Gray's Oil Capitol the horse most likely to be the favorite when the derby winter book comes out. No doubt there'll be a lot of oil (and other) capital invested on his chances.

HONOR FOR WAITKUS

Baltimore, Dec. 6 (P)—Eddie Waitkus, Philadelphia Philly first baseman who was shot last season by a woman in Chicago, today was awarded the "achievement plaque" of the National Baseball Congress.

The award is for the outstanding major league player to graduate from the amateur diamonds of the congress. The 1948 winner was Satchel Paige, the ageless Cleveland Indian hurler.

EXPECT TRADES AMONG BRAVES

Baltimore, Dec. 6 (P)—The spotlight was thrust squarely upon the Boston Braves today as the rest of the trade-minded National league clubs waited to see what Manager Billy Southworth would do before making a move of their own.

The general feeling at this 48th minor league convention is that Southworth must dispose of at least three of his alleged "insurrectionists" before he resumes active control of the club on the field.

Those supposed to be in the know insist that Second Baseman Eddie Stanky and Pitchers Johnny Sain and Bobby Hogue are certain to be traded. They would not be too surprised if Billy were to trade either Southpaw Ace Warren Spahn or Right-handed Vernoh Bickford, both of whom are said to have voiced their displeasure against Southworth.

Southworth, due here today, left the Braves in mid-season because of illness following season-long reports of dissent in the club. Two of the alleged dissatisfied players—Jeff Heath and Phil Masi—are already gone.

Murder Charges Are Filed In Slaying

Hopkinsville, Ky., Dec. 6 (P)—Murder charges were filed here late last night against Franklin Thomas Slay of Griffin, Ind., in connection with the hammer slaying of 16-year-old Mary Ellen Harmon, Evansville, Ind.

Christian county Attorney W. E. Rogers said the murder warrant was turned over to state police and was expected to be served on Slay at Evansville today.

Slay, a 22-year-old law student at Florida State university, is being held at Evansville, where he confessed the hammer-slaying of his Evansville high school sweetheart who he said had entreated: "Let's die in each other's arms."

The body of the pretty 16-year-old girl, an expectant mother, was found beneath leaves and bushes in a deep sinkhole near Hopkinsville, Ky.

IKE WILLIAMS WINS; REVEALS "FIX" REPORTED

Philadelphia, Dec. 6 (P)—Ike Williams still rules the lightweights but he furnished more excitement in his dressing room than he did outpointing Chicago's Freddie Dawson in Convention Hall's ring.

The champion, in an unusual pre-fight press conference last night, called reporters to his dressing room and told them he feared a "fix."

Williams related that he received a telephone call during the afternoon in which the caller said if the bout went the full 15 rounds the championship would change hands.

Frank (Blink) Palermo, who signed a contract to manage the Trenton, N. J., negro for another three years, refused to put much credence in the report. But at Williams' insistence called the sports writers from ringside.

Ike refused to elaborate on his statement or give the name of the person who called him.

"Bum Steer"
But after taking a unanimous but close decision from Dawson that displeased many in the house of 10,398, Williams said his fears apparently resulted from a "bum steer."

The odds, however, on the champion dropped during the day from 12 to 5 to 7½ to 5 as plenty of money showed for the Chicagoan. In three previous non-title bouts they fought a ten-round draw, Williams won by a knockout in another and took the third by a close decision.

At long last Chairman George Jones of the State Athletic commission said he had no knowledge of any reported fix.

Dawson made his best showing in the 12th and final heats but his blows from the inside were not hard enough to make the champion give ground.

adding that "when people have less money to spend, they have to cut down on food as well as everything else. They eat one less egg for breakfast and the result is a tremendous decline in the number of eggs consumed."

At the same time, he added, the cost of producing poultry will hold up during the coming year while the amount the farmer will receive for his poultry products will continue to decline.

He recommended that farmers intensify their efforts to reduce costs, without cutting out any essentials and admitted that the hardest hit will be those, particularly young farmers, who have just come into the poultry business and have high interest payments to meet.

Another reason for forecasting a decline in poultry and egg prices is based on the fact that there are more chickens on the farms now than a year ago. Because of favorable feed prices, there was "quite an expansion of poultry during the past year," he noted.

The next meeting of the poultry federation will be held in February. The January meeting will be cancelled because of the state Farm Show.

MOUNTS MEET BULLETS HERE ON WEDNESDAY

A victim of two narrow defeats on a two-day jaunt into Virginia last week, the Mt. St. Mary's college basketball team will be seeking win No. 1 when it meets the Gettysburg college courtmen on the local floor Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Last week Coach John McMahon's Mountaineers lost to Hampden-Sydney 41-36 and on the following night bowed to Roanoke 44-42.

Minus the services of such stars as Pete Clark, Mike Russo, Bob Zweifel, Bob Kripaitis and Len Tierno, Coach McMahon has been forced to mould his team around last year's reserve unit and reports have it that he has done a fine job.

It is expected that the Mounts will start the same group who opened last week's contests.

Mount Starters
Included will be George Jarvis and Jack Denman, forwards; Captain Gene Janis, center; Jim Montgomery and Ted Kachowski, guards. Janis lowers six feet, five inches, tallest player on the Mount squad.

Other Mount players who will probably see action include Al Rose, George Charniga, Bob Gunther, Frank Tumulty, Frank Bono, Eddie Flanagan, Jack Auwerda and Bill Roshe.

The Bullets will be out to rebound after their reverse at the hands of Cornell.

Height was a contributing factor to Cornell's triumph but against the Blue and White aggregation from Emmittsburg the Bullets will have a slight advantage.

Last year the teams played one of the most thrilling games of the season on the local court with the Bullets finally winning 62-60 and it is likely another close contest will be staged.

The Bullet starting lineup will be picked from Harris, O'Brien, Pure, Belber, Sachs, Mahon, Coder, Ketterman, Watson, Resnaovich, Hare and Clark.

IKE WILLIAMS WINS; REVEALS "FIX" REPORTED

Philadelphia, Dec. 6 (P)—Ike Williams still rules the lightweights but he furnished more excitement in his dressing room than he did outpointing Chicago's Freddie Dawson in Convention Hall's ring.

The champion, in an unusual pre-fight press conference last night, called reporters to his dressing room and told them he feared a "fix."

Williams related that he received a telephone call during the afternoon in which the caller said if the bout went the full 15 rounds the championship would change hands.

Frank (Blinky) Palermo, who signed a contract to manage the Trenton, N. J., negro for another three years, refused to put much credence in the report. But at Williams' insistence called the sports writers from ringside.

Ike refused to elaborate on his statement or give the name of the person who called him.

"Bum Steer"
But after taking a unanimous but close decision from Dawson that displeased many in the house of 10,398, Williams said his fears apparently resulted from a "bum steer."

The odds, however, on the championship dropped during the day from 12 to 5 to 7½ to 5 as plenty of money showed for the Chicagoan. In three previous non-title bouts they fought a ten-round draw, Williams won by a knockout in another and took the third by a close decision.

Atting Chairman George Jones of the State Athletic commission said he had no knowledge of any reported fix.

Dawson made his best showing in the 12th and final heats but his blows from the inside were not hard enough to make the champion give ground.

Murder Charges Are Filed In Slaying

Hopkinsville, Ky., Dec. 6 (P)—Murder charges were filed here late last night against Franklin Thomas Slay of Griffin, Ind., in connection with the hammer slaying of 16-year-old Mary Ellen Harmon, Evansville, Ind.

Slay, a 22-year-old law student at Florida State university, is being held at Evansville, where he confessed the hammer-slaying of his Evansville high school sweetheart who he said had entreated: "Let's die in each other's arms."

The body of the pretty 16-year-old girl, an expectant mother, was found beneath leaves and bushes in a deep sinkhole near Hopkinsville, Ky.

adding that "when people have less money to spend, they have to cut down on food as well as everything else. They eat one less egg for breakfast and the result is a tremendous decline in the number of eggs consumed."

At the same time, he added, the cost of producing poultry will hold up during the coming year while the amount the farmer will receive for his poultry products will continue to decline.

He recommended that farmers intensify their efforts to reduce costs, without cutting out any essentials and admitted that the hardest hit will be those, particularly young farmers, who have just come into the poultry business and have high interest payments to meet.

Another reason for forecasting a decline in poultry and egg prices is based on the fact that there are more chickens on the farms now than a year ago. Because of favorable feed prices, there was "quite an expansion of poultry during the past year," he noted.

The next meeting of the poultry federation will be held in February. The January meeting will be cancelled because of the state Farm Show.

Oldest Resident Of Wenksville Is 93

Wenksville's oldest resident has reason for celebrating today. He is "Freddie" Showers and this day marks his 93rd birthday.

Mr. Showers has done a lot of living and still is spry. He is enjoying good health and it still very active. Attending church and other community gatherings is no hardship for him and he seldom misses church services or any community activity.

Many years of living have not lessened Mr. Showers' prowess as a hunter. At 93 he hunted small game this fall and the only obstacle to hunting for bigger game is his friends' insistence that the woods is no place for a man his age. Mr. Showers insists that, come Saturday and open season on deer, he could be out there with the best of them.

This fall Mr. Showers defied old age to pick apples and husk corn. As a little boy, Freddie Showers climbed a tree to watch the troops of the Civil war go marching past. Today he is a great great-grandfather.

State Police Say

Impatience is too often the big factor contributing to careless and unsafe operation of an automobile. Though in many cases largely responsible, it is rarely brought to light when an accident is investigated. Let common sense and good driving habits be your guide when driving.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO
Started Work Tuesday Morning:
The shirt factory on Washington street, which will be operated by Messrs. Ziegler and Conklin, is now in running order. Twelve young women were employed Tuesday morning and will be taught the method of operating the machines. The hosiery factory building which the Gettysburg Development Company erected for Oscar Reiley, of Mont Alto, has been completed. Mr. Reiley will start work as soon as possible.

New Society Organized: A Camp of Modern Woodmen of America was instituted in this place on Thursday evening by District Deputy Dr. J. M. Walborn, of Carlisle, and Grand Lecturer W. M. Groves, of Shelbyville, Ill. The name of the new camp is "Gettysburg," No. 7263 and was organized with 16 charter members. The following officers were elected and installed for the coming year: Venerable Consul, N. Lieberman; Worthy Adviser, E. E. Slabach; Banker, Joseph H. Collier; Clerk, Donald Stallsmith; Physician, Dr. Henry Stewart; Sentry, Samuel J. Bumbaugh; Watchman, E. Heiney; Escort, Oscar Bushman.

Marriages: Deardorff-Punk.—Nov. 30, at Arendtsville, by Rev. M. M. Nocher, Melvin O. Deardorff, to Mary E. Punk, both of Butler township.

Lightner-Trostle.—Nov. 30, at Arendtsville, by Rev. D. T. Koser, Arthur M. Lightner, of Butler township, to Miss Laura C. Trostle, of Franklin township.

Wagner-Cushon.—Dec. 6, at St. John's Lutheran parsonage in Littlestown, by Rev. L. A. Mann, Michael K. Wagner to Miss Emma J. Cushon, both of Bonneauville.

Wedding Bells: Quite a pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of W. C. Scott, of Fairplay, on Wednesday afternoon, November 29, the contracting parties being J. Luther Hospelhorn, a member of Company M., and Miss S. Jennie Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Scott. At 3 o'clock the bride and groom entered the parlor, where they were met by Rev. D. H. Riddle who, assisted by Rev. Charles Rinewaldt, made them man and wife. After the ceremony the guests, about thirty-five in number, sat down to a bountiful repast.

Local Miscellany: H. J. Brinkerhoff, Jr., gave a phonograph concert Monday evening from the room above his meat market on Baltimore street. A number of excellent selections were enjoyed by a great many people, who were on the streets. The instrument is an Edison Concert Grand and reproduces band and orchestra music loud enough to be heard several squares.

Post 9, G.A.R. at their annual election Monday evening elected the following officers: Commander, Capt. L. Y. Diller; Senior Vice Commander, Simon P. Stover; Junior Vice Commander, I. S. Stonestifer; Quartermaster, Nicholas G. Wilson; Officer of the Day, S. Henry Buehler; Chaplain, Prof. E. J. Wolf; Surgeon, Wm. Spangler; Ordinance Sergeant, David P. Kittmiller; Trustee, Hon. Theodore McAllister; Delegates to State Encampment, Dr. E. J. Wolf and W. H. Rupp, with Nicholas G. Wilson and John E. Pitzer as alternates.

Institute Week Is Over: Superintendent Roth has reason to be well pleased with the first institute over which he has presided. The attendance at all the sessions was good. Friday night's entertainment "The Novelty Entertainers" was especially good.

On Tuesday afternoon a joint session of the teachers and directors was held in the Court room.

The following were elected as delegates to attend the State Directors' Convention in Harrisburg: C. H. Myers, Tyrone; W. C. Van Scoyoc, Latimore; F. S. ## Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE AMERICAN DOLLAR

The most sought after medium of exchange in the world is the American dollar. Of course there are reasons for this that are obvious. It is a successful medium and has a national character background. Work, enterprise, inventive genius, freedom of opportunity, and a will to achieve, have made the American dollar a symbol of hope all over the world.

There are five significant words on this dollar, as well as on words of its lesser portions, and these are: "Liberty" and "In God We Trust." These five words are what have made America great, and the envy of all other nations. Any nation can be great and powerful that will give Liberty to its people and trust in God. No nation can long endure otherwise, no matter how rich its resources may be.

I go into a book store and see thousands of books, expressing the thoughts of endless numbers of human beings—books on every topic conceivable—freely written, and for sale to whom each may most concern, and those words run through my mind—Liberty, in God we trust. I look out from my office, high above the street, the street teeming with human beings, and I see great structures in the most modern fashion, climbing high into space, and again I have those words rushing through my mind—Liberty, in God we trust.

At night time I stand and look out upon the lights of the great city in which I live, and the sight is almost unbelievable. Millions of lights and millions of people moving about unmolested and in their homes, and the machinery of the "unbelievable city" running as smoothly as if it were a mere cart drawn by a child—so simple, yet so miraculously efficient. Underground tubes enclosing billions of miles of wire, water pipes, and other essentials to the life of a city.

The American dollar—yes, but behind each dollar have been ingenious minds, working hands, muscle and might! Things of enterprise and pride, because of Liberty, and in God we trust. The American dollar home at work, and doing a job for freedom abroad, as well.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Calmness To Forget"

BOW TIE PIONEER
I was the lonely man at whom Went titters round the living room. "A bow-tie chap—a little mad—"
When gorgeous neckwear could be had
They'd say, "Afraid of gray spots, He sticks to bows with polka dots."

I bore the laughter and the sneer
From many a friend for many a year.
"Who ties it for you?" they would ask,
As if it were a tricky task.
"I do," I'd say and then remark,
"And I can do it in the dark."

I was the bow tie pioneer,
Subject to every jibe and jeer—
Cutting or dull, at the command
Of those who wore the four-in-hand.
But, time has changed all that—and how!
The governor's wearing bow ties now!

BILLIONS TO BE EXPENDED ON RESEARCH

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Dec. 6 (P)—To find various ways of making life long and better and short and awful, the government is spending almost $1½ billion this year on scientific research.

The work ranges all the way from work on cancer and heart and synthetic rubber to atomic energy for better bombs and weapons for the Army, Navy and Air Force.

The military forces are getting more than half the money being spent on research.

In a talk to a group of scientists, John R. Steelman, assistant to President Truman, told some of the story. He said:

"The importance of science to our national life has been dramatized for all Americans by the atom bomb and the tremendous potentialities of atomic power, but on a thousand less publicized fronts the researcher and the technicians are working together in the search for truth."

Scientific Research
The government's budget for scientific research this year totals $1,380,000,000. It breaks down this way, with a brief explanation for each field:

Atomic energy $320,000,000 . . . This includes benefits to medicine and other fields of life, besides the bomb. Federal security administration, $42,000,000 . . . This goes into research for public health, including cancer, heart disease, infantile paralysis.

General services administration, $31,000,000 . . . This includes building laboratories for other agencies.

National advisory committee on aviation, $70,000,000 . . . This committee is made up of civilians and military men. Almost all of this work is being done in government laboratories.

Tennessee Valley authority, $24,000,000 . . . This includes development of fertilizer.

National Defense
Agriculture department, $55,000,000 . . . This goes into government experiment stations all over the country, livestock, crops.

Commerce department, $19,000,000 . . . This includes the National Bureau of Standards and the Weather Bureau, better air navigation systems.

National defense, $750,000,000 . . . This includes research on weapons by Army, Navy, Airforce. Interior department, $46,000,000 . . . This includes geological surveys in search for minerals.

All other (including Maritime commission, State department reconstruction finance corporation, Veterans administration), $23,000,000 . . . This ranges from development of cultural relations with other countries, particularly Latin America, to synthetic rubber and the making of artificial limbs for veterans. About $425,000,000 of the money is being spent in non-government laboratories, going to universities and industry for various purposes. Federal research in colleges and universities is costing about $100,000,000.

Small Boy Gets Last Word In On Telephone Dispute

Philadelphia, Dec. 6 (P)—The small boy and the telephone operator had a slight misunderstanding. She couldn't catch the number he wanted and asked him to repeat it several times. Finally, he exploded: "You operators are so dumb."

The operator cut him off. Fifteen minutes later, a woman's voice inquired if this was the operator who had cut her nine-year-old son off the line. The operator replied it was and the woman said "just a minute, please."

"My mother wants me to apologize to you for what I said," declared the small boy. The operator accepted his apology and connected him with the number he had been trying to get.

Final scene a half hour later—the small boy and the operator on the phone again. The small boy speaks: "My mother just went out of the house. I still think you're dumb."

CHANGE LAW ON VITAL RECORDS

Harrisburg, Dec. 6 (P)—Changes in Pennsylvania birth and death certificates, effective Jan. 1, will provide a valuable fund of statistics for medical research.

The changes are in line with recommendations of the world health assembly and are the first since 1941, said George E. Greenwood, director of the State Bureau of Vital Statistics.

Under the new plan, still birth certificates will be required in the Commonwealth for the first time.

A revision of the medical certification of the cause of death is the most important change in death certificates. Doctors will be required now to give the cause of death and train of events leading to it instead of the manner of death only.

Greenwood said this innovation will greatly aid studies of mortalities in various occupations, as well as providing new information for studies into major causes of death.

The principal change in the new birth certificates will be the addition of spaces for recording the weight and length at birth. Greenwood said these items will provide valuable information regarding premature births. The data will be made part of comprehensive studies of prematurity.

One Arrest

Leonard Redding, the Warner hospital and T. J. Winebrenner and son.

Pants Battle Continues

Council referred to its highway committee a request from Roy Cold-smith for extension of West street south of West High street, along the side of a new warehouse Mr. Cold-smith is building, to provide access to his property.

Winebrenner said the street was ordered some time ago and rough graded, but is now grown up to weeds. Council authorized the borough engineer to take concrete from the old airport, now on government property, to use as fill. The concrete was the floor of the old hangar.

The battle of the long trousers versus the breeches got no farther than another umpire Monday night, with three members of the borough police force favoring the "longies" and three the "leg-revealing" type to be worn with puttees.

The safety committee, to whom the matter was referred a month ago, reported on what articles of clothing the policemen said they needed, but made no recommendation on the type of trousers. It was referred back for further consideration.

Improve Band Room

Council voted to spend up to $180 for the improvement of a room on the first floor, rear, of the engine house for the use of the Blue and Gray band. Granville Miller Jr., a member of the band, appeared before council with an estimate of the cost of placing insulating board on the walls. He said the band would pay for the painting.

Councilman Fred Hummelbaugh said there was nothing to report on the proposal, made at the November meeting, that the council consider a sewer tax. No action was taken on a statement by Councilman Samuel Weiser that former Health Officer Erle Deardorff had refused to turn over borough property held by him, on the ground that his term did not expire until April.

A request from Rev. Fr. Mark Stock, pastor of St. Francis Xavier church, that West High street be closed from 8:15 to 8:45 a. m. and from 11:30 to 12:30 o'clock to provide a place for parochial school children to play while a new school addition is under construction, was referred to the highway and safety committees and the borough solicitor.

Winebrenner reported that the state permit for the new traffic lights in the borough is being violated. The permit, he said, provides that the lights must be turned on at 7 a. m. and off at 11 p. m. Police were instructed by the burgess to follow this schedule in the future.

Regulation of the green arrow on the light at the Meade school was also brought up and referred to the burgess. Winebrenner said the school janitor turns it off on Monday mornings but refuses to turn it on again on Friday afternoons. It is turned off during the week to provide greater safety for school children crossing Buford avenue.

After a discussion of traffic conditions on North Washington street between Chambersburg street and the railroad tracks it was decided to ask bus companies to use "better judgment" in parking their vehicles.

Councilman Weiser reported that a motorist was delayed 55 minutes by a traffic jam, and the borough engineer reported a recent accident when, he said, three buses were parked on the west side of the street in a "no parking" zone.

"We've got the buses, what are you going to do with them?" Burgess Heres asked. "We want bus service in Gettysburg where are we going to put them?"

Council President H. M. Oyster said, "I believe there is room in the bus station for at least some of them, and that it is not necessary for them to stand two or three hours in the street. They use bad judgment in my opinion. Other people also park on the west side of the street."

Winebrenner reported that new safety signs have been placed by the state highway department on Baltimore street near the cyclorama, one with the word "slow" and another "curve." Residents of this section petitioned for the signs.

The borough engineer, reporting on a new grade for Carlisle street extended, said the state highway department was too busy to send men here, and he had set up a grade and submitted it to the state department for approval.

The highway department was authorized to purchase up to 2,000 gallons of tar for patching streets.

140 At Banquet

One hundred forty teachers, school directors and their wives or husbands banqueted Monday evening in the Biglerville grade school building. Those present represented the faculty and school board within the Upper Adams Joint school district.

Prof. L. V. Stock, supervising principal, presided over the after dinner ceremony and extended greetings to the teachers and directors after which he introduced Dr. Boyer who thanked the administration, cafeteria staff and home economics department for their part in preparing the banquet. He also thanked the faculty for their cooperation in the past and also for a good job done.

"The directors," said Dr. Boyer, "carry the responsibility for planning the school program but it is the faculty that must execute the plans. It is through them that we attain the type of education for which we strive."

These chairmen of the working committees were introduced: J. F.

Kanagy, of the faculty committee; L. W. Kleinmelter, finance committee; Luther M. Lady, transportation committee; and M. E. Knouse, property committee. Mr. Knouse was not present.

Prof. Stock, Luther M. Lady, a member of the joint district board and president of the county school board; Prof. J. Floyd Slaybaugh, county superintendent of schools, and Prof. Charles I. Raffensperger, his assistant, were other speakers for the evening.

Following the banquet a social hour was held in the Musselman Memorial gymnasium which included get-acquainted games. Meetings of the local boards and of the joint board followed when the boards were re-organized and new directors installed.

One Arrest

Leonard Redding, the Warner hospital and T. J. Winebrenner and son.

Pants Battle Continues

Council referred to its highway committee a request from Roy Goldsmith for extension of West street south of West High street, along the side of a new warehouse Mr. Goldsmith is building, to provide access to his property.

Winebrenner said the street was obtained some time ago and rough graded, but is now grown up to weeds. Council authorized the borough engineer to take concrete from the old airport, now on government property, to use as fill. The concrete was the floor of the old hanger.

The battle of the long trousers versus the breeches got no farther than another impasse Monday night, with three members of the borough police force favoring the "longies" and three the "leg-revealing" type to be worn with puttees.

The safety committee, to whom the matter was referred a month ago, reported on what articles of clothing the policemen said they needed, but made no recommendation on the type of trousers. It was referred back for further consideration.

Improve Band Room

Council voted to spend up to $180 for the improvement of a room on the first floor, rear, of the engine house for the use of the Blue and Gray band. Granville Miller Jr., a member of the band, appeared before council with an estimate of the cost of placing insulating board on the walls. He said the band would pay for the painting.

Councilman Fred Hummelbaugh said there was nothing to report on the proposal, made at the November meeting, that the council consider a sewer tax. No action was taken on a statement by Councilman Samuel Weiser that former Health Officer Erie Deardorff had refused to turn over borough property held by him, on the ground that his term did not expire until April.

A request from Rev. Fr. Mark Stock, pastor of St. Francis Xavier church, that West High street be closed from 8:15 to 8:45 a. m. and from 11:30 to 12:30 o'clock to provide a place for parochial school children to play while a new school addition is under construction, was referred to the highway and safety committees and the borough solicitor.

Winebrenner reported that the state permit for the new traffic lights in the borough is being violated. The permit, he said, provides that the lights must be turned on at 7 a. m. and off at 11 p. m. Police were instructed by the burgess to follow this schedule in the future.

Regulation of the green arrow on the light at the Meade school was also brought up and referred to the burgess. Winebrenner said the school janitor turns it off on Monday mornings but refuses to turn it on again on Friday afternoons. It is turned off during the week to provide greater safety for school children crossing Buford avenue.

After a discussion of traffic conditions on North Washington street between Chambersburg street and the railroad tracks it was decided to ask bus companies to use "better judgment" in parking their vehicles.

Councilman Weiser reported that a motorist was delayed 55 minutes by a traffic jam, and the borough engineer reported a recent accident when, he said, three buses were parked on the west side of the street in a "no parking" zone.

"We've got the buses, what are you going to do with them?" Burgess Heiges asked. "We want bus service in Gettysburg, where are we going to put them?"

Council President H. M. Oyler said, "I believe there is room in the bus station for at least some of them, and that it is not necessary for them to stand two or three hours in the street. They use bad judgment in my opinion. Other people also park on the west side of the street."

Winebrenner reported that new safety signs have been placed by the state highway department on Baltimore street near the cyclorama, one with the word "slow" and another "curve." Residents of this section petitioned for the signs.

The borough engineer, reporting on a new grade for Carlisle street extended, said the state highway department was too busy to send men here, and he had set up a grade and submitted it to the state department for approval.

The highway department was authorized to purchase up to 2,000 gallons of tar for patching streets.

NAME NEW MASTER

Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., has been appointed by the Adams county court as master in the divorce action of Milton Howard Hull versus Mary Evelyn Smith Hull to replace the late Attorney Edgar K. Markley.

named to the executive committee. Robert C. Lott was elected president of the Menallen township board with Mrs. Pearl Wenk as vice president. Lott and Harold E. Taylor were elected as members of the executive committee.

Guy Deardorff was named as president of Tyrone township with Hiram Rex as vice president. Rex and Hilbert Hoffman were named to the executive committee.

140 At Banquet

One hundred forty teachers, school directors and their wives or husbands banqueted Monday evening in the Biglerville grade school building. Those present represented the faculty and school board within the Upper Adams Joint school district.

Prof. L. V. Stock, supervising principal, presided over the after dinner ceremony and extended greetings to the teachers and directors after which he introduced Dr. Boyer who thanked the administration, cafeteria staff and home economics department for their part in preparing the banquet. He also thanked the faculty for their cooperation in the past and also for a good job done. "The directors," said Dr. Boyer, "carry the responsibility for planning the school program but it is the faculty that must execute the plans. It is through them that we attain the type of education for which we strive."

These chairmen of the working committees were introduced: J. F.

Kanagy, of the faculty committee; L. W. Kleinfelter, finance committee; Luther M. Lady, transportation committee; and M. E. Knouse, property committee. Mr. Knouse was not present.

Prof. Stock; Luther M. Lady, a member of the joint district board and president of the county school board; Prof. J. Floyd Slaybaugh, county superintendent of schools, and Prof. Charles I. Raffensperger, his assistant, were other speakers for the evening.

Following the banquet a social hour was held in the Musselman Memorial gymnasium which included get-acquainted games. Meetings of the local boards and of the joint board followed when the boards were re-organized and new directors installed.

Today's Talk
By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE AMERICAN DOLLAR
The most sought after medium of exchange in the world is the American dollar. Of course there are reasons for this that are obvious. It is a successful medium and has a national character background.

Work, enterprise, inventive genius, freedom of opportunity, and a will to achieve, have made the American dollar a symbol of hope all over the world.

There are five significant words on this dollar, as well as on most of its lesser portions, and these are: "Liberty" and "In God We Trust." These five words are what have made America great, and the envy of all other nations. Any nation can be great and powerful that will give Liberty to its people and trust in God. No nation can long endure otherwise, no matter how rich its resources may be.

I go into a book store and see thousands of books, expressing the thoughts of endless numbers of human beings—books on every topic conceivable—freely written, and for sale to whom each may most concern, and those words run through my mind—Liberty, in God we trust. I look out from my office, high above the street, the street teeming with human beings, and I see great structures in the modern fashion, climbing high into space, and again I have those words rushing through my mind—Liberty, in God we trust.

At night time I stand and look out upon the lights of the great city in which I live, and the sight is almost unbelievable. Millions of lights and millions of people moving about unmolested and in their homes, and the machinery of the "unbelievable city" running as smoothly as if it were a mere cart drawn by a child—so simple, yet so miraculously efficient. Underground tubes enclosing billions of miles of wire, water pipes, and other essentials to the life of a city.

The American dollar—yes, but behind each dollar have been ingenious minds, working hands, muscle and might! Things of enterprise and pride, because of Liberty, and in God we trust. The American dollar home at work, and doing a job for freedom abroad, as well.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Calinness To Forget"

I was the lonely man at whom Went titters round the living room. "A bow-tie chap—a little mad." When gorgeous neckwear could be had.

They'd say, "Afraid of gray spots. He sticks to bows with polka dots."

I bore the laughter and the sneer From many a friend for many a year.

"Who ties it for you?" they would ask, As if it were a tricky task. "I do," I'd say and then remark, "And I can do it in the dark."

I was the bow tie pioneer, Subject to every jibe and jeer—Cutting or dull, at the command Of those who wore the four-in-hand. But, time has changed all that—and how!

The governor's wearing bow ties now!

BILLIONS TO BE EXPENDED ON RESEARCH

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Dec. 6 (AP)—To find various ways of making life long and better and short and awful, the government is spending almost $1½ billion this year on scientific research.

The work ranges all the way from work on cancer and heart and synthetic rubber to atomic energy for better bombs and weapons for the Army, Navy and Air Force.

The military forces are getting more than half the money being spent on research.

In a talk to a group of scientists, John R. Steelman, assistant to President Truman, told some of the story. He said:

"The importance of science to our national life has been dramatized for all Americans by the atom bomb and the tremendous potentialities of atomic power, but on a thousand less publicized fronts the researcher and the technicians are working together in the search for truth."

Scientific Research
The government's budget for scientific research this year totals $1,380,000,000. It breaks down this way, with a brief explanation for each field:

Atomic energy $320,000,000... this includes benefits to medicine and other fields of life, besides the bomb.

Federal security administration, $42,000,000... This goes into research for public health, including cancer, heart disease, infantile paralysis.

General services administration, $31,000,000... This includes building laboratories for other agencies.

National advisory committee on aviation, $70,000,000... This committee is made up of civilians and military men. Almost all of this work is being done in government laboratories.

Tennessee Valley authority, $24,000,000... This includes development of fertilizer.

National Defense
Agriculture department, $55,000,000... This goes into government experiment stations all over the country, livestock, crops.

Commerce department, $19,000,000... This includes the National Bureau of Standards and the Weather Bureau, better air navigation systems.

National defense, $750,000,000... This includes research on weapons by Army, Navy, Airforce.

Interior department, $46,000,000... This includes geological surveys in search for minerals.

All other (including Maritime commission, State department reconstruction finance corporation, Veterans administration), $23,000,000... This ranges from development of cultural relations with other countries, particularly Latin America, to synthetic rubber and the making of artificial limbs for veterans.

About $425,000,000 of the money is being spent in non-government laboratories, going to universities and industry for various purposes. Federal research in colleges and universities is costing about $100,000,000.

Littlestown

Littlestown—Harry J. Wildasin returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Wildasin, East King street, on Sunday following his discharge from the army. Wildasin served 13 months in the United States Armored Division. Since Easter he was stationed at Camp Hood, Texas. He received his discharge at Camp Hood on December 1.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Ray Reindollar, Lumber street, returned home on Sunday evening from a 16-day motor trip to Florida. In Florida they made the trip from Daytona Beach to St. Petersburg. On their return, they traveled west to Indiana before returning to Littlestown. They traveled approximately 3,500 miles. Their daughter, Miss Dolores Rae Reindollar, was the guest of her grandfather, M. A. Miller, and her aunt, Naomi Schwartz, near town.

"My mother wants me to apologize to you for what I said," declared the small boy. The operator accepted his apology and connected him with the number he had been trying to get.

Final scene a half hour later — the small boy and the operator on the phone again. The small boy speaks: "My mother just went out of the house. I still think you're dumb."

CHANGE LAW ON VITAL RECORDS

Harrisburg, Dec. 6 (AP)—Changes in Pennsylvania birth and death certificates, effective Jan. 1, will provide a valuable fund of statistics for medical research.

The changes are in line with recommendations of the world health assembly and are the first since 1941, said George E. Greenwood, director of the State Bureau of Vital Statistics.

Under the new plan, still birth certificates will be required in the Commonwealth for the first time.

A revision of the medical certification of the cause of death is the most important change in death certificates. Doctors will be required now to give the cause of death and train of events leading to it instead of the manner of death only.

Greenwood said this innovation will greatly aid studies of mortalities in various occupations, as well as providing new information for studies into major causes of death.

The principal change in the new birth certificates will be the addition of spaces for recording the weight and length at birth. Greenwood said these items will provide valuable information regarding premature births. The data will be made part of comprehensive studies of prematurity.

 great success. This is why: He was never able to pull a rabbit out of his hat.
 Everywhere he went to put on a show he was laughed at and sometimes even chased out of town when the audience found he could not produce a rabbit. Because what good is a magician if he can't do this trick at almost any old magician can do?

teach her to come out of your hat instead of a rabbit."
 "Well!" said Mr. Dilly, greatly cheered. "That might solve all my troubles! Let us see your duck."
 And he and Henry went hand in hand out of the tent.

Chapter 2 HENRY AND MR. DILLY JOIN FORCES

One December day he came to a town and put on a special Christmas Magic show. Quite a lot of people came to his tent; to see him. He did his very best tricks.
 First he took a piece of rope that looked like a clothesline. He waved a wand and threw one end of the rope in the air. Strangely, the rope coiled stiff, like a stick, one end on the floor and the other end seeming to go right through the top of the tent.

Henry led Mr. Dilly to a very queer shed of a house at the edge of the town. It looked so rickety you would have thought even a spring breeze would send it tumbling to the ground. As they turned in at the gate a woman with fly-away hair opened the door and swept the porch vigorously.

Next he did his scarf trick. It looked like a regular scarf but when Mr. Dilly unwound it from his neck got longer and longer and longer it turned from red to yellow to green to purple.
 Finally he did his Christmas tree trick. He took a little fir tree and waved his wand and said magic words. Suddenly the little tree was covered with red and blue balls and stars and stripes of tinsel and lights of snow.

"Is that your mother?" asked Mr. Dilly.
 "Oh, no," said Henry. "I don't have a mother. That is Mrs. Snell. She takes care of me, I guess."

The audience thought these tricks were But presently they began calling. "Get us a rabbit out of your tent!"
 So Mr. Dilly took off his hat and did some magic words. But no rabbit came out. He tried it again. Still no rabbit.
 The audience laughed at him and went away saying he was a fake magician who couldn't even get a rabbit out of his hat. Mr. Dilly sat down feeling very sad because that was the way his shows always ended. Presently a little boy crept up beside him. He had been sitting in the last row in the tent and stayed behind when all the others left.

"You! Where have you been? There's work to be done, you know. Get in here and scrub the kitchen and fill the wood box and peel the potatoes." Her voice was dreadfully loud and cross.

"Did you stay behind to laugh at me?" asked Mr. Dilly wearily.
 "Oh, no," said the boy. "I am Henry. I have a talking duck."
 "Talking duck!" said Mr. Dilly. How do you do that?
 "I don't do it," said Henry. "It's not a trick. She just talks and I thought—well, maybe you could."

Henry said, "I went to a Christmas magic show and this is—"
 "Christmas!" cried Mrs. Snell. "Just forget about Christmas. There won't be any Christmas in this house. I can tell you—not for boys like you."

"Pardon me," said Mr. Dilly politely. "I am Mr. Dilly the Magician. Henry is bringing me to see his talking duck."

Mrs. Snell's mouth dropped open and she stared at Mr. Dilly unbelievably for a long moment. Then her voice flowed back into her mouth and she cried, "Surely, a man as old as you has not been taken in by this foolish story of a talking duck!"

Mr. Dilly looked at Henry as if to say "Have you been fooling me?"
 "It's not a story," blurted Henry. "It's true. Serena is in the backyard and she talks to me all the time."

Mrs. Snell burst into laughter. "Not only does the boy do no work, he is silly in the head besides. Why should I have so much trouble?"
 "If I could see the duck, perhaps—" suggested Mr. Dilly.
 "Yes, come," said Henry quickly. "I keep her in a box out back." But as he started to lead Mr. Dilly around the house Mrs. Snell whooped. "You won't find your duck out back now, young man!"
 Henry stopped and looked at Mrs.

Snell. His face was suddenly quite pale. "Where is she, then?" he asked.
 "I've tied her up in the kitchen," said Mrs. Snell. "I'm going to cook her for dinner."

Henry gasped. Tears of anger streamed down his cheeks. "I'll never work for you again!" he said.
 "Leave me, then!" shouted Mrs. Snell. "But you won't get the duck!" And suddenly she took up her broom and began hitting poor Henry. She swept him off the porch and down the walk and gave him a final swat on his head as she snored him through the gate.

For a while the boy was blind with dust and anger and tears. It was quite a few minutes before he realized that he was alone in the road, that Mr. Dilly had left him.

"Now what am I to do?" thought the wretched boy, robbed of his pet, left all alone by his new friend, and thrown out of the only home he had. It seemed to him that the world was a most cruel and friendless place.

It grew dark and as he stumbled along he did not see the man at the turn of the road until he had almost walked into his arms.

It was Mr. Dilly.
 "What took you so long, boy?" said the Magician. "I began to think I'd have to come back for you."

"Oh, I'm so glad to see you!" said Henry ready to cry with relief.
 Mr. Dilly put his arm around the boy's shoulders. "Son," he said, "How would you like to team up with me and be my helper?"

"You mean—travel with you and put on magic shows?" gasped Henry. "That would be great! Except—except—" his voice faded away.
 "Except what?" prodded Mr. Dilly gently.

"Except for my duck," whispered Henry. "I can't bear to leave Serena for Mrs. Snell to eat."

"If that is all that's worrying you, you can forget it," said Mr. Dilly. And he reached in his pocket and pulled out a skinny, dusty, angry-looking duck.
 "Why—it's Serena!" cried Henry. Next: Mr. Dilly Goes to School.

Santa MAGICIAN AND THE

great success. This is why. He was never able to pull a rabbit out of his hat.

Everywhere he went to put on a show he was laughed at and sometimes even chased out of town when his audience found he could not produce a rabbit. Because what good is a magician if he can't do this trick that almost any old magician can do?

One December day he came to a certain town and put on a special Christmas Magic show. Quite a lot of people came to his tent to see him. He did his very best tricks.

First he took a piece of rope that looked like any clothesline. He waved his wand and threw one end of the rope in the air. Strangely, the rope stood stiff, like a stick, one end on the floor and the other end seeming to go right through the top of the tent.

Then Mr. Dilly did his smoke trick. He mixed some powders and liquids and made a big ball of smoke, bigger than himself. He bounced it around the platform.

Next he did his scarf trick. It looked like a regular scarf but when Mr. Dilly unwound it from his neck it got longer and longer and longer and turned from red to yellow to green to purple.

Finally he did his Christmas tree trick. He took a little fir tree and waved his wand and said magic words. Suddenly the little tree was covered with red and blue balls and silver stars and strips of tinsel and flakes of snow.

The audience thought these tricks fine. But presently they began calling. "Get us a rabbit out of your hat!"

So Mr. Dilly took off his hat and said some magic words. But no rabbit came out. He tried it again. Still no rabbit.

The audience laughed at him and went away saying he was a fake magician who couldn't even get a rabbit out of his hat. Mr. Dilly sat down feeling very sad because that was the way his shows always ended.

Presently a little boy crept up beside him. He had been sitting in the last row in the tent and stayed behind when all the others left.

"Did you stay behind to laugh at me?" asked Mr. Dilly wearily.

"Oh, no," said the boy. "I am Henry I have a talking duck."

"Talking duck?" said Mr. Dilly. "How do you do that?"

"I don't do it," said Henry. "It's not a trick. She just talks and I thought—well, maybe you could—"

Henry stopped and looked at Mrs. Snell. His face was suddenly quite pale. "Where is she, then?" he asked.

"I've tied her up in the kitchen," said Mrs. Snell. "I'm going to cook her for dinner."

Henry gasped. Tears of anger streamed down his cheeks. "I'll never work for you again!" he said.

"Leave me, then!" shouted Mrs. Snell. "But you won't get the duck!"

And suddenly she took up her broom and began hitting poor Henry. She swept him off the porch and down the walk and gave him a final swat on his head as she snatched him through the gate.

For a while the boy was blind with dust and anger and tears. It was quite a few minutes before he realized that he was alone in the road, that Mr. Dilly had left him.

"Now what am I to do?" thought the wretched boy, robbed of his pet, left all alone by his new friend, and thrown out of the only home he had. It seemed to him that the world was a most cruel and friendless place.

It grew dark and as he stumbled along he did not see the man at the turn of the road until he had almost walked into his arms.

It was Mr. Dilly.

"What took you so long, boy?" said the Magician. "I began to think I'd have to come back for you."

"Oh, I'm so glad to see you!" said Henry ready to cry with relief.

Mr. Dilly put his arm around the boy's shoulders. "Son," he said, "How would you like to team up with me and be my helper?"

"You mean—travel with you and put on magic shows?" gasped Henry. "That—would be great! Except—except—" his voice faded away.

"Except what?" prodded Mr. Dilly gently.

"Except for my duck," whispered Henry. "I can't bear to leave Serena for Mrs. Snell to eat."

"If that is all that's worrying you, you can forget it," said Mr. Dilly. And he reached in his pocket and pulled out a skinny, dusty, angry-looking duck.

"Why—! It's Serena!" cried Henry. Next: Mr. Dilly Goes to School.
